Key Race of the Day – Race 3 – Allowance – 5 Furlongs (Turf)

The morning line favorite in this five-furlong turf sprint, #6 Garnet and Gold, will make her first start at Fort Erie for ICON Racing Stable and trainer Tony Adamo after winning two races at Woodbine in May. In her most recent start, she failed to fire, but she was stepping up in class and had to tackle some nice horses including the winner, Little Teddy, who is a stakes winner. Based on her tapeta form, she figures to sit a few lengths off the pace early and should come flying late as it appears a few of these runners may duel early. #5 Getting Ahead looked good winning her five-year-old debut on June 10th, as she was able to take them gate-to-wire in a six-furlong dirt event. She was a handful before the race but settled a bit once hitting the track and obviously, she was no worse for wear – she earned a career best Beyer of a 64. She's only raced twice on the turf and in her lone turf sprint, she finished mid-pack, but based on her running style, she may be able to go to the front and stick around for a piece. The rail runner, #1 Silver Bullet Lady, figures to be the other mare involved early – this daughter of Reload took them gate to wire last time out in her first start of the year and held her own. She was claimed out of that race for $7,000 and jump up in class today, but her prior turf efforts at the five-furlong distance over the inner turf at Woodbine suggest she can fight for a piece and her figures fit well with this group.
